About CORO

CORO (Committee of Resource Organisations), established in 1989, works for empowerment of marginalized community people adopting the constitutional entitlement based development approach with three flagship programmes.

i.e. Quest Leadership Programme (QGLDP), Grassroots Development and Women Empowerment.

CORO's 'Unique Demonstrative Proposition' (UDP) over the last two decades has been about facilitating leadership from within marginalized community, especially from within women and youth.

Strategically, CORO evolved from an implementing organisation to an organisation equipped with expertise in training, intervention research and participatory communication.

Vision

To create a society based on equality and justice with no discrimination based on caste, gender, class, religion, region, ethnicity and age, amongst other factors

Mission

We work to build a world based on equality and social justice by working with the most marginalized communities on facilitating leadership from within these communities to steer entitlements based, collective actions for social change.

Ideology and Approach of the Organization

Participatory processes and collective leadership are at the core of CORO's approach to facilitate the social change. Over the last two decades, CORO has developed a community-based approach to improving the lives of India's most marginalized and oppressed. CORO mobilizes and inspires local people and concerned authorities to stand for equality and justice in gender-related issues.

In marginalized communities, people are discriminated on the basis of caste, class and gender. One of the biggest challenges is an acceptance of discrimination or oppression as part of 'fate' - combined with a culture of silence. Raising awareness of constitutional entitlements and challenging social norms is the key in overcoming such hurdles through the capacity building programmes. CORO is changing mindsets - from 'victim of circumstance' to 'change-maker'.

Our Current Strategic Framework

'Initiative from within' and 'Solidarity is the biggest asset of the marginalised people' are CORO's two key premises about the envisaged social change. Mobilising marginalised people on the Constitutional Entitlement Based Approach is a challenging task. People are sometimes exposed to risks while breaking the culture of silence on marginalisation. But this is the way for bringing qualitative and sustained change in people's lives. The inequalities in power relationships must be addressed in the democratic framework of constitution.

Looking at the enormity, diversity and complexity of the issues faced by the marginalised people, the right strategy of intervention is to invest in building up leadership from within the marginalised so that these leaders then become change agent in their own communities (micro level) and collectively they can impact at the macro level.

Women Empowerment

Programme Concept:

Women Empowerment Programme works with the households in Mumbai slums and facilitates a dialogue with people in family community on violence related social constructs and challenges, inequitable deep-rooted social norms at family, community and systemic level (police, administration, and judiciary) through simple, accessible strategies.

Operation Strategy:

To break social norms and tackle domestic violence issues, the programme does a focussed intervention through conducting trainings, counselling, providing legal aid service, organising awareness programs and building campaigns.

Key Activities:

Women Empowerment Programme specifically focused on the following issues during the year 2015-16:

Changing social norms on gender based violence

Domestic violence against women

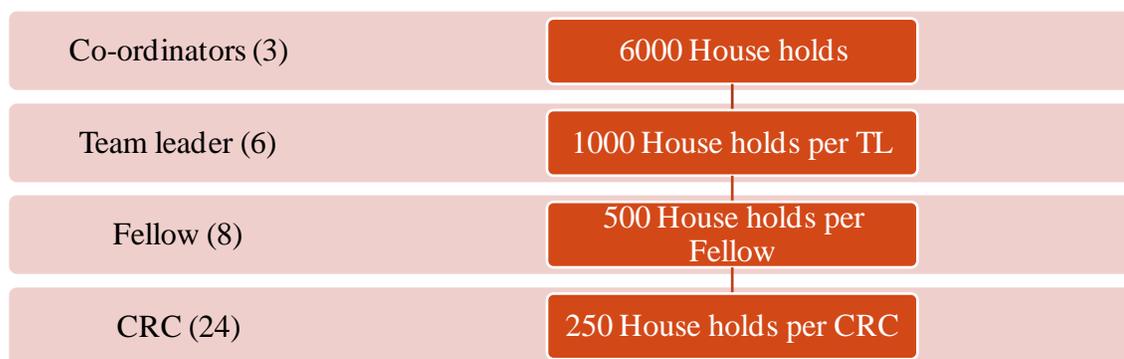

Adolescents & Youth sensitization

Survey of 6000 household:

As a first step towards an effective intervention, a Baseline Survey of 600 out of 6000 Households was conducted in the areas from M- ward using a tool developed through a participatory method. CRC members, fellows and volunteers were given thorough orientation on the objectives, challenges during the survey apart from explanation of survey form. CRC members, Fellows and Volunteers from community worked together to accomplish a common objective.

Formation of Support Groups: Total 8 fellows formed and worked with the support group to increase reach in the community and spread awareness by strengthening the support system of the community. CORO formed 24 Case Registration Centers (CRC) in the community as first point of contact of the community. The support groups helped in the prevention of repeat occurrence of domestic violence and reduction of the same.

TEAM STRUCTURE & STRENGTH OF WOMEN EMPOWERMENT PROGRAMME

Meetings Conducted

Monthly Community Meetings of team leaders, fellows, CRC members, support group and task force members were organized to work more effectively and efficiently and reach out to the people and spread awareness about the issues

Households reached	Total meetings conducted by CRC and Team leaders	Participants		Total Participants
		Male	Female
6000	478	4123	10918	15041

Capacity Building

CORO equates capacity building with training and handholding. To give an orientation about the project, its goal & objectives, responsibilities, a 2 day workshop was organised where total 15 team members were present. To form a dedicated team to deliver the core message of CORO to the communities, a training of CRC team members, team leader and fellows on gender issues was organized with an objective of increasing awareness on gender/gender equality and capacity of the team. Apart from that resources from Tata Institute of Social Science conducted capacity building sessions on counseling and domestic violence issues for CRC members and Team Leaders.

Domestic violence act 2005 (CRC and Team Leader): CORO organized training on Domestic Violence Act 2005 for CRC members and team to acquaint them with the topics like: Various articles of DV act 2005, the procedure about the registration of complaint, the benefits for women in this act.

Festivals of Unity

To build wider community ownership through involvement of Mahila Mandals, SHGs, CBOs, and adolescent and youth groups, days of national importance & festivals like Republic Day, Women’s Day, Makar Sankranti etc. were celebrated by the organization during the year.

Iftar Party was celebrated where women belonging to different religions invited their Muslim friends during Ramadan with an aim of enhancing the bonding among the religious communities. The occasion was also used to spread awareness about domestic violence & remedial measures for the same.

AWAZ DO Campaign

The campaign was planned for 10 days with an aim to sensitize community about social norms and domestic violence. In the initial days various workshops, sessions and activities were conducted for all the community workers to enhance their understanding of social norms and domestic violence. To implement the campaign various activities were organized like conducting community meetings and discussions of 6000 households, events were organized by all the 8 fellows in their respective area to spread awareness about changing social norms and also about domestic violence.

Impact:

- 24 CRC Members, 6 Team Leaders and 8 fellows were equipped with the required skills to tackle domestic violence / gender issues in the community.
- Focussed intervention in 6000 households in Mumbai to address domestic violence issues, break social norms and other problems at community level.
- Promotion of communal harmony among different religious groups and organising them to tackle pressing social issues of the community.

A Bold Step for Justice – Shahida Khan

Shahida herself once was a victim of domestic violence; she went through physical violence inflicted by her husband and was also restricted from going out of the house. When she came in touch with Women Empowerment Programme, she took a bold step to go against the social norms imposed on her and joined Mahila Mandal Federation (MMF), a CORO initiated organization, as a CRC member. After attending various trainings on protection from domestic violence, gender, Domestic Violence Act etc., she gathered enough courage to file a complaint against her husband with the police and went for a judicial process to get justice. Presently, she dedicates her time in helping other women who have gone through one or the other type of domestic violence. Due to Shahida's work many cases of domestic violence were disclosed and victimized women are coming forward to seek justice for themselves.

Way Forward:

The organization has planned its future endeavours for the year 2016-17 as follows:

- A baseline survey of 2000 households, 1000 in Ahmednagar and 1000 in Nasik districts to expand the reach of the programme to other districts.
- Orientation, trainings, exposure visits of the team leaders, fellows, CRC members etc. to pro-actively identify, register and respond to cases of domestic violence.
- Forming groups of women, men, adolescent girls and boys and conduct community-level workshops with youth groups of women and men and developing and equipping a task force of around 400 women and men ready to take immediate action on incidence of VAW/DV at community.

- Strengthen CORO's Savitri Legal Aid and Counselling Centre (SLACC), Mumbai to meet immediate needs of survivors of domestic violence.
- Analyse cases of VAW/DV handled by SLACC for the last 20 years

Gender Sensitization (Meena Raju Manch Programme)

Programme Concept:

Maharashtra Government's Meena Raju Manch Programme imparts gender education to students in the age group of 11 to 14 in 23000 upper primary schools in 36 districts of Maharashtra impacting 4 Lakhs children.

Since 2012, CORO in collaboration with Maharashtra Government and UNICEF does focused training, hand-holding and monitoring of this program in 120 schools and village-level awareness and campaigns in 120 villages in 6 districts of Maharashtra.

Operation Strategy:

CORO trains and guides school system to implement the sessions on gender equality with the children. Along with it, we also seek support for the programme from village through awareness and campaigns around gender equality and girl's education.

Key Activities:

CORO participated in the following activities to effectively implement MRM Programme:

Technical support to linkage with syllabus: CORO has played a vital role in reviewing and documenting gender biased examples/pictures in the academic books of 1st to 8th standards.

During the discussions it was suggested to give the messages about importance of education, child entitlements, gender equality, human body & menstruation cycle, leadership in girls etc. to the children through the syllabus:

Training of Master Trainers: District Institution and Education Training (DIET) persons and Sugamkartas, totaling 267 people participated in the training about effective implementation of Meena Raju Manch Programme.

Handholding in District Level Training and Block Level Training:

CORO team assisted in training of MRM & Meena chi Duniya in selected 7 districts (including Mumbai) and 11 blocks where 321 people at district level and 603 people at block level participated.

Meena chi Duniya is another unique initiative started for the school children in this event various types of 106 stories were presented to the school children, it has helped them to start thinking about the different gender perspectives and also to motivate and encourage teachers and system as a whole to inculcate gender concept in academic text book & curriculum.

Support, Help and Empower DIET and BRC at 6 Districts:

MRM team visited District Institution and Education Training (DIET) Centres in all 6 districts and updated them about the status of MRM programme in schools, positive responses and the challenges. As per the suggestion of DIET a workshop on documentation and monitoring workshop was conducted with the BRP Participants.

Handholding Support in 6 Districts to Create Models of Excellence:

To understand the current situation of the schools, initial visits were conducted by

INTERVENTION AT THREE LEVELS

CORO's team to all 120 schools. All the schools responded positively and seemed to be enthusiastic. Discussions were also carried out with the teachers, head masters, villages and School Management Committees (SMC) to get their views on the need to implement the programme. The team also interacted with children to get an overview of the status of sessions being conducted and their understanding about the sessions.

Workshop with Kendra Pramukh (Centre Head) and Extension Officer:

Role of Kendra Pramukh (KP) is very crucial for effective implementation of MRM activities in schools as He/she works as a liaison between school and administration. With this in mind we organized quarterly workshops for Kendra Pramukhs and Extension Officers. The workshop covered Introduction of MRM programme, Meena chi Duniya, significance of gender equality etc. The Kendra Pramukhs and Extension Officers were also oriented about their role in the effective implementation of the MRM programme.

Rapport Building with stakeholders to take their support in implementing MRM & Meena chi Duniya for Gender equality: To implement MRM programme effectively it is necessary to gain support of different stakeholders. Throughout the year 300 meetings were held in 6 districts resulting into awareness about programme and participation by these stakeholders as shown in the table below:

Group	Total
School Management committee	84
Youth	40
Parents	38
Gram Panchayat	50
Target Groups	44
Self Help Groups	31
Village Meetings	13
Total	300

Collection of School Profiles & Orientation of Programme:

To know the present status after the intervention, school profiles were collected having details like number of students and teachers, male-female ration in schools, basic amenities available at school and efficiency and effectiveness of MRM Programme. Study, based on the collected details, highlighted the problems and challenges at school level and helped the team find out the effective measures to tackle the same.

In the beginning of the Academic year MRM team visited schools and gave re-orientation about MRM programme and Meena chi Duniya to Teachers, Sugamkarta & Head Masters. Most of the places, SMC members also attended this orientation program.

World's Daughter day campaign:

World's Daughter's Day was celebrated in 120 schools of 6 districts on 11th October 2015. On this occasion, various activities were organised like essay, slogan and drawing competitions, role plays and rallies. Essay competition was held which included topics like Equality, Right to education to every girl and boy, Dowry as a bad practice, Child Protection and Child Marriage. Many students especially girls participated in the competition in large numbers.

Impact:

- Reviewed and developed the modules on the linkages with the syllabus.
- NCERT recognized our linkage work done with the help of SCERT

- In Nandurbar district effective handholding in 20 schools helped in running the MRM programme smoothly with an active involvement of DIET & EO office.
- In the Chandrapur District MRM program was linked with syllabus.
- More number of teachers became aware of gender equality and a few of them are trying to implement in their personal life.
- MRM Sessions were successfully conducted in 120 schools by Sugamkartas.

Way Forward:

- Nurturing gender equality attitudes in various other stakeholders in schools, communities and systems at a deeper level.
- To take the concept of equality further to gender and encourage bringing equality in caste, class, religion etc.

Learning Community

Learning Community as a program started in 2013 aiming at creating the leadership in adolescent girls and sensitize them on gender issues. The program resonates with the broader aim of CORO of working against the discrimination based on caste, creed, religion, color, gender.

Girls from Learning Community worked with the theme: Creating leadership from the community to combat violence against girls.

Major Activities during the year

Community Meetings: Meetings especially with parents from community were organized to open conversations with them on illicit social norms imposed on girls that restricted their overall growth and snatched away their space in society. The girls in the community also participated in the discussions.

Formation of Groups:

To combat violence against girls and challenge the social norms, a group of 50 adolescent girls and 15 boys was formed. The group formation was facilitated through meeting with self help groups, parents and home visits to families in the community. To gain more support from the adolescents, a gathering was organized on the occasion of an Independence Day where 100 girls and boys showed their presence.

Training and Development:

The girls were also trained on how to use cell phones for educational purposes as a learning medium. Parents also made their presence for this session.

Adv. Anil Jadhav conducted a session on the constitutional entitlements of girls where 50 girls, 5 boys and 10 parents were present.

Awareness Campaigns:

Street Plays were organised with the themes like restrictions on girls and eve teasing. It was an attempt to reach out to more number of community people as a part of “Ab Nahi To Kab Nahi” (If Not Now Then Never) Campaign. In all 8 plays were staged based on the scripts written by the community girls themselves and the message reached out to 2000 people.

The girls identified and captured insecure places for girls in their cameras and handed over the photos to the police stations with a demand to put street light at these places and increase police patrolling in the concerned areas. Parents and other people from the community also joined the girls in this campaign.

A survey was conducted to understand the status of girls’ security in the communities, awareness about their constitutional entitlements, their perception about the society and deliver the information to the government system. Total 150 survey forms formed a good database to understand the issues regarding girls’ security.

Quest Grassroots Leadership Development Programme(QGLDP)

Programme Concept:

Quest Grassroots Leadership Development Programme (QGLDP) aims to transform marginalized communities from villages/urban-slums through providing a yearlong training and mentoring to the grassroots community leaders to equip them to find solutions to a critical community problem.

Over the period of 9 years, this program has facilitated the development of 1000+ grassroots leaders from 280 organizations impacting over 1.6 million people from marginalised communities in Maharashtra ,Rajasthan and Delhi/ NCR. In the course CORO also facilitated 6 regional campaigns on a variety of themes mentioned below steered by leaders and their organisations.

Operation Strategy:

Looking at the enormity, diversity and complexity of the issues faced by marginalised people, the right strategy of intervention is to invest in building up leadership from within the marginalised so that these leaders become the change agents in their own communities (micro level) and collectively they can impact at the larger scale (macro level).

Key Activities:

In the Year 2015, Quest Grassroots Leadership Development Program was started with 90 fellows in Maharashtra worked on the following themes:

An intensive, year-long schedule of training, mentoring and other support, helped the fellows devise solutions that address critical community issues

Women Empowerment	Gender Equality	Education
Conservation of Natural Resources	Livelihood	Health & Sanitation
Rural / Community Development	Addressing Social/Economic Inequalities	Strengthening Local Self-Government

Grassroots Leadership Training

Throughout the year Trainings were conducted in 14 topics from Understanding Self to Advocacy encompassing four capsules delivered with a gap of 6-8 weeks. The reinforcement and consolidation of training was ensured by integrating the training with relevant assignments which helped the fellows understand and work with the communities in a participatory manner.

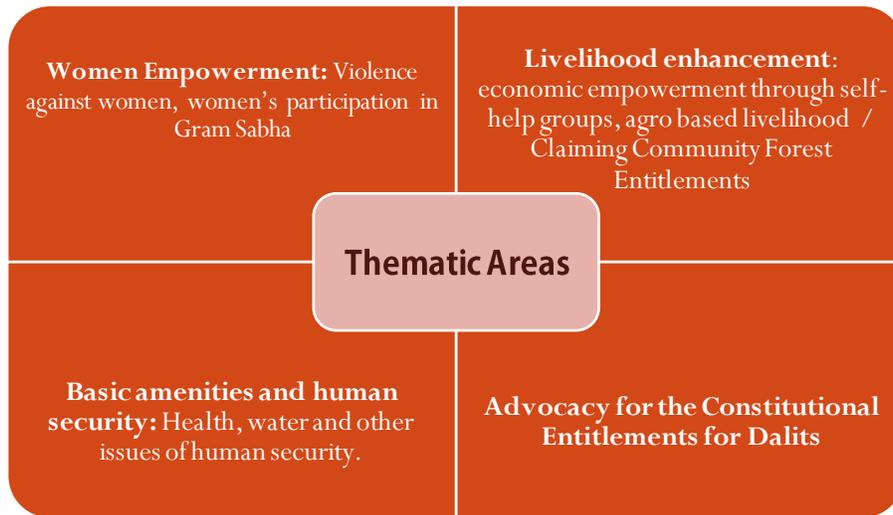

QGLDP Steps Into Rajasthan

Proud Moment

CORO expanded QGLDP with a launch in Rajasthan on 30th May 2015 with a participation of 33 Fellows and 18 mentors. The programme was inaugurated by Mr. Rajendra Singh, popularly known as 'Water Man' of Rajasthan and Mr. Nandkumar, Director of Jaipur Rugs Foundation.

During the fellowship the following thematic areas were focused on :

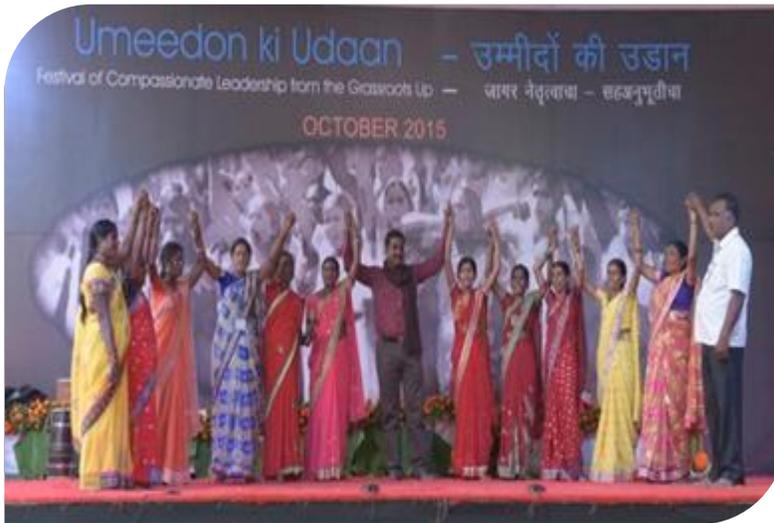

Chief Guest, Mr. Rajendra Singh cut the ribbon placed on the representative model of Constitution of India. He talked about the significance of Constitution in our community work and how we can help people gain their constitutional entitlements. He added further Constitution gives us the impeccable power to do advocacy for justice, equality and establish democratic values across the nation. CORO's Programme

Mr. Nandkumar talked about leadership, sharing incidents from his life, successes and challenges on the way. The function concluded with a song "Hum Honge Kamiyaab" expressing strong intention to succeed in the leadership development of the communities.

Grassroots Leadership Festival

Glorious Moment

CORO led 'Grassroots Leadership Festival' in Mumbai was a unique celebration in its content, form, approach and the participation of multilevel leaderships.

The festival was organized on 30th & 31st October 2015 and was a collective, participatory celebration of emerging grassroots leaderships and their networks in Maharashtra.

The Leadership festival provided a unique opportunity to people from different fields (social development/ corporate/ academic/ government departments etc), sectors (health/ education/ environment conservation/ issues of marginalized communities etc), contexts (global/ national/ local/ grassroots etc) and across different global geographies to locate spaces of collaborations and co-creations for compassion leadership and also for creating 10X impact through their leadership.

The Leadership festival communicated and shared the incredible, innovative work of grassroots leaders and their impact on the world outside grassroots. It also strengthened the bonding and knowledge-sharing within grassroots organizations and leaders. It created networks for multiplying impact by involving all those who contributed to the betterment of the world by dealing with complex issues of concern to all.

The festival was conceptualized to celebrate the grassroots leadership processes that CORO had tried to initiate, nurture and manifest in multiple ways to create impact in the last 25 years.

Celebration of 25 glorious years of community work

This was a celebration of networks and collaborations that CORO had created with many organizations to strengthen the approach of 'Initiative from within the marginalized'. More than 50 organizations in Maharashtra were shaping up these processes and therefore were shaping the 'Leadership Festival'.

The festival showcased crucial grassroots issues depicting people, efforts, challenges, achievements and needs in dealing with some of the most complex and chronic issues for creating sustainable impact. Some of the globally important issues such as environment protection, fortification of natural resources (issues around forest/ water/ land), women empowerment, constitutional entitlements of single women, sanitation and basic amenities, livelihood, migration, education, health were among the chosen themes for the festival. The festival brought in authentic voices from the grassroots and invitation for others to collaborate and co-create.

Emphasis at Grassroots Leadership Festival

The form adopted for the festival was that of the fair in Indian villages, running continuously for both the days of the festival. There were creative stalls around the issues and themes, seminars, training and discussions, ongoing cultural events, screening of documentaries, space for interpersonal/ group interactions; all focused on 'What exists', 'What Next' and 'How to enhance impact of what we do'?

Mr. Devendra Fadanvis, The Hon. Chief Minister of Maharashtra, Mr. Kailash Satyarthi, the Nobel Laureate for Peace and Ms. Vidya Shah, CEO of EdelGive Foundation were the Chief Guests of the festival.

Impact:

The impact of the programme was seen across three levels:

Individual impact: Fellows experienced the shift in individual identity from being a victim to being a change-maker / change-leader, assumed greater responsibilities within organizations. Most of them learnt how to harness available community resources and extended their area of work to a wider geographical areas.

Organizational impact: Staff members of selected organizations were equipped with mentorship skills. Fellows and Mentors helped in the enhancement of visibilities of their organizations. An issue-based/region-based network of CBOs/NGOs was developed.

Community-wide impact: Community participated actively in local affairs and governance of their villages. Community learnt a collective approach and advocacy as a way to tackle issues in the community while taking the ownership of the problems for the self-reliance.

Name: Suresh Bala; Issue : Promotion of Education

Suresh Bala used to be aloof from her community as she was not allowed to go out of the house by her in-laws. Suresh worked on improvising the situation of education in the school in her locality.

Through fellowship program Suresh:

Persuaded all members of defunct school management committee to participate in all activities for smooth functioning of school.

Addressed the issue of shortage of teachers and headmaster at the school

Initiated the construction of the dilapidated school building

Revived a midday meal scheme for the school.

Suresh says, "People live for themselves, but I learnt from CORO to live for the people and I feel good by doing so."

Way Forward:

- Our model has a proven track record of creating high-impact, sustainable change. We seek to build on this momentum and scale our work across India.
- A new launch in Delhi and other states in the year 2016-17.
- Partnering with more NGOs in Maharashtra, Rajasthan & Delhi.
- Focus on campaign building/strengthening on various themes.

Awards & Recognition

BBC 100 Women of 2015: India's Mumtaz Shaikh

Our leader in Women Empowerment Programme & Mumbai Right to Pee campaign, Mumtaz Shaikh has been honoured as one of the BBC's 100 women of 2015.

For decades women are charged to use public urinals in India, despite the fact they are free for men. RTP campaign advocates for providing free urinal facilities for women. The campaign made the government set aside INR 5.25 Crores to build female-only urinals around the city. Mumtaz was 1 of 7 Indians on the list receiving a well-deserved recognition.

Savitri Sanman 2016

Right To Pee Campaign in Mumbai was felicitated with Savitri Sanman 2016 on the occasion of women's day by Maharashtra1 News Channel at the hands of Honorable Chief Minister of Maharashtra, Mr. Devendra Fadnavis.

Major Highlights of RTP Campaign, Mumbai

Right To Pee (RTP) campaign in collaboration with BMC developed a Gender Friendly Toilet Design to take care of the needs of Women, Men, Children, Senior Citizens, Blind and Specially Able Citizens of the city.

MEETING WITH MR. PRAKASH PATIL,
DY. COMMISSIONER, SWM - MCGM

A comprehensive survey of women's toilets on railway station premises was conducted by RTP, in collaboration with Tata Institute of Social Sciences (Tuljapur). The survey comprised of open-ended questionnaires to loo attendants, railway authorities and commuters at 87 stations. A list of demands for clean, secure and free toilets for women was prepared based on this survey.

RTP had 6 meetings and 2 consultations on sanitation, water and safety to study and give suggestions and objections. All suggestions were accepted in development control regulations.

Meeting with Hon. Chief Minister, Mr. Devendra Fadanvis who promised to implement the development plans at Mumbai municipal level, at railway stations and form a committee with RTP members at Maharashtra level

Ms. Anju Dubey from UN Women visited the RTP stall at CORO's Grassroots Festival & launched RTP Website.
